Donation of equipment to the police in an Abidjan neighborhood

17 March 2008 Abidjan

COMMUNITY QUE DE PRESSE / FAI

The AMAN-International Foundation equips the Police Station of the 30th Arrondissement of Deux-Plateaux

This Monday, March 17, 2008, the AMAN-International Foundation (FAI) offered an important donation of appliances, office supplies, household equipment and phytosanitary products to the Police Station of the 30th Arrondissement of the Ivorian economic metropolis. The handover of the donations took place in the new premises of the police located in Attoban, district of Deux-Plateaux in the town of Cocody.

After an important donation of clothes to the "Cellule de la Solidarité et de l'Action Humanitaire" (CSAH) of the Ministry of Solidarity and Victims of War last February in favor of the most destitute families, FAI officials had received a delegation from the 30th district police station led by Lieutenant Abou Parfait AKÉ charged by Commissioner Timité VASSINDOU, the first person in charge of the said police station, to request material assistance for the equipment of their new premises in view of the difficult socio-economic situation in Côte d'Ivoire.

This request being part of its development programs, the AMAN-International Foundation has, once again, marked a most useful action in this period of economic crisis in favor of this national institution by offering fans, air conditioners, several boxes of registers, household equipment, plant protection products among others to contribute to the development and the blooming of the populations of this commune.

According to Marie Ginette AMANI, this gift will allow the police officers to accomplish their tasks in better conditions for the happiness of the populations whose security and protection they are responsible for. She ended her remarks by congratulating and encouraging the police officers headed by Commissioner VASSINDOU for their commitment and dedication to this noble career that they have accepted to embrace.

This action, the first of its kind in this district of Abidjan, was welcomed with an explosion of joy not only by the police officers of the 30th district and in particular by Commissioner TASSÉRE, the representative of the police prefecture, but also by the delegation of the Ministry of Solidarity and Victims of War, the traditional chiefs of Gobelet, a precarious district of Attoban, and the members of various NGOs present at this ceremony of donation.

That is why - taking the floor in turn - they thanked President AMANI for the generosity of her Foundation and her tireless fight in the field of humanitarian and development aid and assistance.

This handing-over of donations took place in very good conditions and to the great satisfaction of Commissioner Timité VASSINDOU who invited all the delegations present to a cocktail party which ended the ceremony.
